

Sculptural Wine Cellar in a Private Villa

Archetype team - 03/07/2026

The project transforms an unused 70m² technical level on the ground floor of a private villa near Athens into a sculptural wine cellar and gym. Originally closed off, the space suffered from irregular geometry, high humidity, and a lack of ventilation. The intervention began with a full hydro-isolation treatment and the installation of a new ventilation system, establishing the foundation for comfortable and controlled microclimate.
