Syros I

Archetype team - 30/09/2020

Situated in the island of Syros, Syros I summerhouse hosts a couple and their guests. The design process was defined by the clients' desire to maximize the view of the Plagia bay. The main intention was to unify the various spaces of the house under one roof facing the Aegean, without creating a massive volume, thus resulting in a deconstructed rectangle with massive openings from all sides.
